Warehousing water

Contrary to the general belief, flowing water seldom purifies itself. It gathers and accumulates impurities along its course.

This water drains, or is otherwise gathered, into large storage reservoirs—warehoused water. It is stored until needed; it then goes to the filtration and sterilization plants, thence to the distributing reservoirs.

These storage reservoirs of raw water are open. It is neither practical nor necessary to cover large bodies of water, as very large bodies of water purify themselves. Under these conditions harmful bacteria do not increase or grow.

Harmful organisms that may be drained into the reservoirs from large watersheds soon perish. This fact lessens the operation of filtration, as these organisms may never reach the filters.

Filtration and sterilization complete the process of providing pure water to this community.

Hollyhocks and Canterbury Bells Nuptial Setting

Misses of stately hollyhocks Chinese baskets filled with pale pink by drangea and a profusion of pink Canterbury bells will be used in the appointment of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen C. Barnhart this evening for the marriage of Mrs. Barnhart's sister, Miss Grace Alexander, Gr. and Ray Simonds, of Berkeley. About seventy-five friends and relatives are to be present at the informal wedding and reception to follow. The ceremony will be held by Rev. C. D. Miliken, pastor of the Interdenominational church of Piedmont. Bouquets of panicles will be placed here and there throughout the other rooms of the home. The hour for the ceremony has been set for 9 o'clock. Mrs. Gray will be unattended, and will wear a lovely gown of white georgette crepe trimmed in fluting, elegant in its simplicity. The shower bouquet is to be an unusually beautiful combination of rose tulle, rosebuds intermingled with cyclamen and lilies of the valley. Following supper, the bride couple will leave for a six weeks' motor trip to the northern part of the state, and on to Oregon.

TOO FAT?

Here's a Simple, Safe and Reliable Way to Reduce Your Weight

Maybe you have nearly worn out body and patience trying to secure satisfactory weight reduction by following drastic rules requiring starvation dieting or urethane, troublesome exercises, or drugging.

Even so, you should not lose hope and imagine that you must carry through life a load of burdensome, unhealthy flesh. Here's a very simple, easy-to-follow system of treatment that is said to bring truly remarkable results for others, and it will be easy to prove what it can do for you.

Go to your druggist and get a small box of Cocoanut capsules. Take one capsule after each meal and one before retiring at night, also follow the other simple directions that come with the capsules.

This method should reduce your weight ten to sixty pounds (or whatever you wish) in a short time and leave your general health and figure greatly improved.

You will be amazed at the improvement in your mind as well as your body when you have begun to reduce your weight.

Oil of Kerosene is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take and its treatment is surely worthy of a fair trial if you want to become thinner, healthier and younger in appearance.—Advertisement.

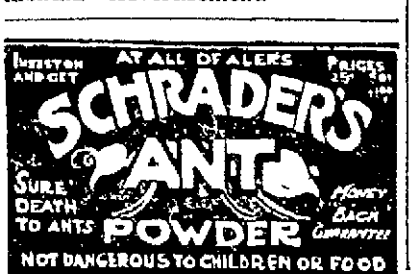

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing

Soap should be used very carefully if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is SCHRADER'S COCONUT OIL SHAMPOO (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft and the hair fine and silky, bright lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Multiscent coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—Advertisement.

and Washington. They will return by the inland route. Upon their return Mr. Simonds and his bride are to be at home to their friends after September 1 at 1330 Spruce street, Berkeley, the home of the bridegroom-elect. Mrs. Gray is one of the accomplished young matrons of the society and since residing in this part of the state has made her residence with her sister on Vernon Heights. Her fiancé is a graduate of the University of California, and while his business is established across the bay makes his residence in the college town.

TAFT-MARWEDL WEDDING AT ST. PAUL'S

The first of the trio of weddings today, which interested society, was that of Miss Dorothy Taft and George Marwedel of Fruitvale, the nuptial service being held at 4 o'clock at St. Paul's Episcopal church in Adams Point district by Rev. Alexander Allen, rector of that church, in the presence of about thirty and a half of the two families and closest friends. The ceremony was most informal owing to the bereavement in the family of the bride some months ago. Mrs. Marwedel wore a simple bridal gown of white lingerie, with which was worn a picture hat of white tulle. She carried a handsome shower bouquet of white roses, cyclamen and other dainty blossoms that go to make up the bridal shower of the present day. Mrs. Marwedel is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clay Taft of this city and a sister of Miss Clara M. Taft.

Both sisters have been engaged in post war work months after the ending of the regular duties of the war period, and have been among the most constant of the younger girls in local war work.

Herbert Shuey served as best man for Mr. Marwedel.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. J. H. Marwedel of Fruitvale and a sister of Miss Elsie Marwedel.

WEDDING TO BE AT HOME OF FRIDAY

A bride of this evening will be Miss Juliet Bain, whose marriage to Irving Humphrey will take place at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents on Santa Ray avenue. Mrs. S. S. Bain of an offshoot of the bride's family, of Santa Rosa, will read the Episcopal ritual in the presence of about forty guests.

There will be no attendants upon the couple. Mrs. Bain will be carried in a white lace gown over silver and will wear the wedding veil worn by her mother as a bride. A shower bouquet of white roses, tulle and valley lilies will complete the costume.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Bain of this city.

Ophelia roses and individual corsage bouquets were the attractive decorations at a luncheon given Saturday by Miss Dorothy Childs McDonald, at which the engagement of Miss Dorothy Childs McDonald to George Marwedel was announced. The affair was given at the Fairmont Hotel. The guests were members of this year's graduating class at the University of California and included Miss Dorothy Duncan, Miss Anne Kelsey, Miss Cecil Mosbacher, Miss Aileen Leonard, Miss Eliot Landon, Miss Ruth McGlynn and the Misses Ruth, Edith and Anita Muraski.

WILL MOTOR TO SANTA BARBARA

Mrs. Charles Butters will spend the remainder of the summer season at Santa Barbara, where the family will motor the party to leave the latter part of the week.

Among the younger set accompanied by a group of friends from across the bay, who motored to Del Monte for the week end, were the Misses Esther and Alma Martin and their brother, who recently received his discharge from the U. S. Navy.

WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENTS REACH FORTHBY FRIENDS.

Announcements have just been received by FORTHBY friends of the marriage of Miss Dorothy Hunt and George Milton Randall, the ceremony having been performed June 24 in San Jose. Mrs. Randall is the daughter of Mrs. Kate Fuller Hunt, and a graduate of the Oakland High school and San Francisco State Normal school. About a year ago she entered the service of the United States Navy, as a yeomanette. Randall, who received his discharge from the Navy, is connected with a San Francisco concern.

In the study of Calvary Presbyterian church in San Francisco at high noon yesterday the marriage of Miss Jessyma Helen Bernhardt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bernhardt, and Dr. Frank Lawrence Hart, son of the late Dr. Archie Hart and Mrs. Nellie Hart, was solemnized by Rev. Josiah Sibley, pastor. Attending the bride was her sister, Miss Dorothy Deane Bernhardt, while the groom was served by a college classmate, Clarence F. Dolano.

Dr. Hart is a graduate of the University of California Dental College and will take up his practice immediately following his return from his wedding trip.

Dr. Hart and his bride left on a motor trip to Yosemite, Lake Tahoe and Nevada.

Woman Voters Active in German Election

BERLIN, July 15.—Fifty-four per cent of the voters in the last National Assembly election were women. The total number of qualified voters was 37,000,000 as against 14,000,000 in the last Reichstag elections. Young women proved more ardent voters than youths of the same age. Both wings of the socialists polled forty-five and one-half per cent of the total vote.

Liquid Exhibits at State Fair Reduced

Enforcement of the provisions of the "dry" law has eliminated from the program for the State Fair at Sacramento this year several pages that have in past years been devoted to lists of beverages to be exhibited. It requires only about three-quarters of a page to cover the liquid refreshments that will be seen at the fair, which opens August 30 and closes September 9.

Under the head of "Beverages" the exhibits listed are: Class 275, cider, class 276, vinegar, class 278, mineral water, class 279, non-alcoholic beverages. Theodore Gier of Oakland is chairman of the committee on agriculture and viticulture, and this committee has supervision of the beverage exhibit. Other members of the committee are H. A. Jastro, E. INDERNIANS OPEN NATIONAL CONVENTION

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—Presidents of the first national convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in San Francisco were observed this morning by the delegates from all parts of the United States and Canada, who have assembled here for the opening when they gathered in the Civic Auditorium and in a body marched to St. Mary's Cathedral where high mass was celebrated at 9:30. Archbishop Edward J. Hanna was the celebrant.

At the noon hour welcoming exercises were held in the Civic Auditorium with addresses by Governor William D. Stephens, Mayor James Rolph, and Archbishop Hanna, on behalf of California and San Francisco, and Joseph McLaughlin of Philadelphia, national president of the order and Mrs. Mary McWhorter, national president of the Woman's Auxiliary on behalf of the delegates and their friends. Supervisor Andrew Gallagher, who was introduced by P. B. Mahoney, was chairman of the day.

FORMALITY OPENS AT 2.
The national convention formally opens at 2 o'clock this afternoon, the men assembling for their first business session in the Larkin street hall, the women in the Polk street hall.

The national meeting of the Hibernians will be made notable by reason of the attendance of Ramon de Valera, president of the Irish Republic, who will arrive at the Oakland mole Thursday at 5:10 p. m. Elaborate preparations are being made to welcome the Irish leader to San Francisco for his reception.

WELCOME TO BE PLANNED.
There will be a committee meeting tonight at which time details for welcoming the Irish leader will be worked out. The tentative plans include a reception at the Oakland mole, Ferry Building and the City Hall, and a luncheon at the Civic Auditorium on Thursday night at which the Sinn Fein leader will speak. President de Valera is scheduled to address the Ancient Order of the Hibernians on Friday morning. He has been invited to be the guest of the picnic and Irish festival at Shellmound Park Sunday and to attend the unveiling of the Emmet statue in Golden Gate Park on the same day. During his sojourn it has been announced by Rev. P. J. Boote on behalf of St. Ignace College that the degree of doctor of philosophy would be conferred upon the Irish leader.

ELECTION CONTEST.
Election of officers develop an interesting contest, two candidates already being in the field to succeed McLaughlin as president. They are Patrick P. Cannon of Clinton, Mass., and John J. Sullivan of Thomaston, Conn. The election will take place Saturday.

A grand ball, the most brilliant social function ever planned by the Irish society in California, will be given tonight in honor of the national officers and visiting delegates. The state and county branch of the Hibernians, entertained at a reception last night at the St. Francis with President McLaughlin and Mrs. McWhorter the particular guests of honor.

ANITA BALDWIN TO 'RUN' HOTEL.

Mrs. Anita Baldwin, daughter of E. J. (Lucky) Baldwin, will show hotel owners and managers how hotels should be run. It will be a personal demonstration. For the owner or of the string of famous houses and more millions than she can comfortably spend, will herself manage and direct the magnificent hotel which she proposes to erect at Lake Tahoe. Mrs. Baldwin will forget her wealth and become a salaried woman for the sake of her lesson, for one year at least.

A site of one of the earliest hotels in California has been chosen for the new experiment. The structure will be modeled after a famous old Belgian castle.

"There won't be a hotel like it in the country," boasts Mrs. Baldwin. The furnishings and appointments, the subordinates who will serve under her direction, will be personally selected by the famous heiress. The hotel will not be built as an investment, according to Mrs. Baldwin, and will cost in excess of what the situation warrants. She will make her residence there until her theories become facts.

In erecting the new hotel at Lake Tahoe Mrs. Baldwin declares she is carrying out the desires of her father.

Standard Gas Engine Employees to Picnic.

The employees of the Standard Gas Engine Company will hold their first annual picnic at Fernbrook Park, Niles Canyon, Sunday. Many valuable prizes have been donated by business houses of Oakland and San Francisco consisting of merchandise and cash.

The amusements and game committee has prepared an excellent program and has promised to produce some novelties, the nature of which they refuse to divulge until the day of the picnic.

One of the events of the day will be the race for men between 55 and 59 years. The eligibles are doing some intensive training for the race and great rivalry has sprung up between them.

Dancing will be one of the diversions of the day and the music will be supplied by the jazziest jazzettiers of jazz music.

The committee of arrangements is composed of R. Madison, chairman; F. R. Sage, H. B. Farley, R. Austin, P. Martin, W. C. Townsend, E. McCarthy, C. Foley, C. Martin, J. Cruden, W. Campbell, F. E. Baker, G. J. Krusher.

Mosquito Stings Her on Nose and She Dies.

LONDON, July 15.—Mosquitoes, or more as they are called here, are proving a pest this summer in various parts of England. As a rule they are harmless insects in this country, but Miss Mary Ashley of Seven Kings, aged 21, was so severely stung after being stung on the nose by a mosquito that she died four days later.

At the ceremony the former Mrs. Douglas withdrew the money from a local bank, believing that she would deposit it in a Gotham institution on their arrival there. Arriving at the Palace hotel, where they planned stopping before the trip to New York, Douglas, according to the wife's testimony, requested her to order an elaborate wedding breakfast. He told her that he would guard the money in her handbag. When the wife returned both money and husband had vanished.

MOVIE STARS STAGE BAY DISTRICT STORIES.

San Francisco and vicinity are becoming more and more a favorite with the motion picture companies. Today Geraldine Farrar, her husband, Lou Tellegen, and a small supporting cast have succumbed to the bay region's charm as a film environment.

GOAT WITH GREEN HORN THOUGHT STOLEN.

Has an enemy to Ireland's freedom kidnapped John Donohue's goat? Donohue, who resides at 11 Sparta street, believes so. Here's the reason: On July 12, in celebration of the Battle of the Boyne, Donohue painted the goat's horn a vivid green, branded the animal's sides with huge "D's" of similar color and turned "Pat," as the animal was christened, loose.

MINING BUREAU HEAD IS BURIED.

Funeral services were held today for H. S. Durden, for many years in charge of the California State Mining Bureau. He died at Buena Vista hospital Sunday morning, bringing to an end a career devoted to the mining industry of California. He was 89 years of age. Three sons survive. Lieutenant F. S. Durden, U. S. N., J. H. and L. H. Durden.

THIRD STOCK-FAILURE SUICIDE SAN FRANCISCO NEWS MILLIONAIRE MARRIES HIS NURSE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—With his left lung punctured by a knife, wielded, he says, by his wife, William Wandra of the Henrietta Apartments in Mission street, lies at the Central Emergency hospital today swearing vengeance on the spouse and upon Oscar Lehman, a friend, with whom he says he found the woman. While Mrs. Wandra was expected to be released from a battery charge, pending Wandra's recovery, while the other man in the case is in jail on a vagrancy charge.

According to the wounded man, he returned home last night and found it necessary to batter down the door of his apartment before he could find his wife. He says he found her with Lehman. A fight followed, even after Lehman, who was a friend of Wandra, according to her husband's story, seized his pocket knife and stabbed him over the heart. The wife, Edith, is 22 years old, while the husband is 34. Lehman is a recent arrival from Seattle.

LOSES HIS FORTUNE; COMMITTS SUICIDE.

Unable to abide by the financial reverses which had rendered him penniless, Charles Groos, bond broker and business man, is dead today, a suicide. Fastening a tube to the gas attachment at his fashionable residence in Presidio avenue, Groos calmly reclined on a couch nearby and, with a quilt over his head so that none of the gas might escape, sought his death.

According to the widow Groos had plunged heavily in Poulson Wireless stock, only to lose his substantial fortune. His is the third suicide in the mining investment in this stock. Dr. Washington Dodge and Albert Langemann, prominent banker, also ending their lives.

HOTEL NURSE IS NOW WIFE OF PATIENT.

When Miss E. Wright nursed Frank C. Clark, millionaire back to health she did so in line of duty. He was a guest at the Palace Hotel and it was her duty as trained nurse to the hospital to attend to the ill of guests. When Miss Wright recently asked for a vacation it was not in line of duty. It was in line of marriage. She is now Mrs. Frank C. Clark. They are spending their honeymoon at Santa Barbara. A country home at Montecito and $250,000 in cash are only a portion of the wedding gifts. He is a retired excursion manager.

NO DANGER IN MEXICO SAYS JAPAN'S MINISTER.

Summarized home to a conference, the result of which may bring about international changes of importance, Baron Puntaro Mori, Minister to Mexico, Japan, is at the Fairmont hotel here awaiting his steamer.

"There is no danger to foreigners in Mexico," he said to an inquiry. "The Japanese are in no danger. Conditions are improving there. We do not look with concern upon the operation of the revolutionists in the northern Mexican states. Japan has had the most friendly relations to all nations in the world and there is no reason to change its relations with Mexico."

The Oriental diplomat estimated the Japanese population in Mexico at 2000. He was appointed to the Mexican post in October, 1917. He leaves Wednesday on a six months' leave of absence.

NO VEGETABLE BUGS OR PESTS BOTHER FARMERS.

Bringing news of an agricultural paradise in Peru, 10,000 feet above sea level, Rev. Thomas E. Farne, missionary to that country, is here en route to his home in England. Corn and wheat grow to an enormous size in this fairy land, a plateau in the clouds, and the minister exhibited samples in a bottle as ample proof of his statements. He also told of a beneficent scorpion that kills only insects of bad character, sparing the bugs which do not harm the food plants.

WIFE WILLING TO PAY $2000 FOR HER LESSON.

Since Frank Douglass left his wife on the morning of their wedding, together with $2000, which she had withdrawn from a local bank, Mrs. Elouise Douglass is quite willing that he stay away permanently. Yesterday she secured annulment of her marriage before Judge Cabaniss on the grounds of misrepresentation.

According to her testimony Douglass told her that he was a "cattle raiser and a ranch owner of New York city." This was on their marriage license records. After the ceremony the former Mrs. Douglass withdrew the money from a local bank, believing that she would deposit it in a Gotham institution on their arrival there. Arriving at the Palace hotel, where they planned stopping before the trip to New York, Douglas, according to the wife's testimony, requested her to order an elaborate wedding breakfast. He told her that he would guard the money in her handbag. When the wife returned both money and husband had vanished.

QUIT OR BE FIRED, OFFICIALS TOLD.

That an ultimatum has been placed before J. A. Lloyd building inspector, and H. C. Smith, chief market inspector, to resign or be removed, was intimated today by Commissioner F. F. Morse, following the statement of the two officials that they would not resign, but would "wait and be fired."

"I believe they will resign," said Morse today. "I can say this, that I have given them enough time to resign, and that I think they are reasonable."

Both are appointees of former Commissioner F. P. Jackson. When the new council organized Morse announced that both were to be ousted, they not being under civil service. Friends of both made a strenuous fight to hold their offices for them, and both officials refused to resign.

Smith, the market inspector, is a close friend of Mayor John L. Davis, and has enlisted the friends of the mayor in an endeavor to induce Morse to reconsider his determination to oust him.

Telephone girls in the city hall have made a demand on Mayor John L. Davis for an increase in salaries, Mayor Davis announced today. He will take the matter up, he said, with the Civil Service Board.

"These girls complain that they are only getting $65 a month," said Davis, "and that they complained to the old Civil Service Board many times without result. I am going to take the matter up personally with the new board and see if some adequate raise cannot be given them. The work is harder than even in a public switchboard and requires more skill, and I believe that if anyone in the city hall is entitled to a raise it is these girls."

Davis will file a letter tonight with the board on this matter, he says.

Fortune Offered With Dog's Picture

LONDON, July 15.—By merely hanging the picture of a dog, the Scottish National Galleries may acquire a very substantial portion of a fortune estimated at $350,000.

Callum, the dog, belonged to James Cowar Smith, of Bothamsall Hall, near Retford, who died recently. Mr. Smith was very fond of dogs and kept a number of them. Mr. Smith had a picture of "Callum," a dead rat, painted in oils. Under Mr. Smith's will the trustees of the Scottish National Galleries will receive part of his estate if they will agree to hang this picture "in a conspicuous place" in one of the galleries under their control.

To a servant Mr. Smith bequeathed his dogs with an allowance of $125 a week for the keep of each of them and annuity of $250.

HOSELESS WOMAN COMES TO TOWN

When lovely woman stoops to folly And, helpless, repeats her cheap way, She looks on Mister Melanchole. The walls don't stop—look—listen—stay.

She's come! Along with equal suffrage, vers libre, the "shimmie" and "other advanced notions of a very advanced world, she has entered the bay city region. She is lovely as to feature and form; clothed in modesty, furs and lace; lithe and graceful like a huntress woman of old—and hoseless.

All of Alameda county is awaiting her advent. Already our neighbor on the other side of San Francisco bay has fallen at her feet. She tripped blithely down the lobby of the Palace Hotel yesterday and by the time she had reached the doorway, all within reach had been converted.

Stockingless, she made her way among the gaping worshippers. It was not until several minutes after her departure that those, lucky enough to witness the fair one's bold venture into the world, recovered. Instead of stockings, everyone testified in awe to everyone else, she had appeared en natural, with a dash of ribbon scampering adown each leg.

Clark Chosen on Joint Commission

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Former Senator Clarence D. Clark of Evanston, Wyo., was appointed a member of the international joint commission today by President Wilson. He succeeds the late James A. Tawney of Minnesota.

When James S. Campana, arrested in Stockton on a charge of stealing a coat, stopped from the jail there, having served his sentence, he was not free, after all. For he walked into the arms of George Powers, inspector of the Oakland police department, who was waiting at the door for him, and today is in the Oakland city prison, "charged with uttering a fictitious check."

Campana is accused by Mrs. Sadie Rislin of 908 Broadway of passing a bogus check for $25 on her. The police in hunting for Campana located him serving a term in Stockton, and Powers ascertained the date of his release and was there to take him into custody.

Again Arrested on Check Charge

When James S. Campana, arrested in Stockton on a charge of stealing a coat, stopped from the jail there, having served his sentence, he was not free, after all. For he walked into the arms of George Powers, inspector of the Oakland police department, who was waiting at the door for him, and today is in the Oakland city prison, "charged with uttering a fictitious check."

Campana is accused by Mrs. Sadie Rislin of 908 Broadway of passing a bogus check for $25 on her. The police in hunting for Campana located him serving a term in Stockton, and Powers ascertained the date of his release and was there to take him into custody.

Taxpayers Warned of Fake Collectors

Occasional complaints have reached the offices of Collector of Internal Revenue Justus S. Wardell of impersonators of internal revenue officers. In all instances effective steps will be taken to protect taxpayers, and vigorously prosecute imposters, it was announced.

It was pointed out that every duly authorized officer of the United States Internal Revenue Service carries with him, at all times, proper credentials. The penalty for impersonating a revenue officer with wrongful intent is a fine of not more than $1,000 or imprisonment for not more than three years, or both.

CONNOISSEURS AT VARIANCE ON ART VALUE

Art connoisseurs are in serious conflict over the question as to whether or not artist David Russell, defendant in the suit of H. H. Schmidt to secure possession of a collection of paintings, has really produced great works of art or only "not good." The case is before Judge T. W. Harris, who must decide not only the ownership of the pictures but their value. For the past two days the pictures have been on exhibition and dealers and critics have been busy before them attempting to appraise their worth. Russell claims the collection is worth $16,000 and Schmidt values them at $300.

Today Peter Kowalski, art dealer of San Francisco, valued the latest canvas of the collection, a copy of the "Horse Fair" in the Metropolitan Museum, as being worth $1,500. He said it would require from one to ten years to dispose of it at that figure. He claimed that the picture is incomplete, having been taken away from the artist on a replevin suit before he was through with it, and that it could be sold for a picture of great value. Another dealer testified that accurate copies of the picture could be had from artist and art students at a good price of $100 to $200, and that a good copy should be so valued.

According to whether the witnesses are artists or dealers depends the character of their testimony. It is noticeable that which side called them to testify. Invariably artists appraise the pictures at a greater worth than dealers. However, Kowalski, a dealer, called by the defendant, fixed the highest value assigned to any of the pictures.

Schmidt claims the pictures on the strength of having supplied the artist with the money that enabled him to paint.

ASK ORDINANCE TO STOP MISUSE OF U. S. UNIFORM

The police department are today asking the city council to prepare an ordinance similar to that passed in Los Angeles, making it a misdemeanor for anyone making a misuse of the uniform of a soldier, sailor or officer of the United States army or navy in the sale of merchandise or other articles on the streets or in house to house solicitation.

After preparation of this ordinance by the city council it will be introduced by the commission public health and safety with request that it be made effective immediately.

This bill will make it unlawful for any person to induce any person to purchase or employ for the purpose of selling any articles of merchandise, magazines or any other thing of value, or in soliciting orders therefor, upon a canvass, to wear the uniform of a soldier, sailor or officer of the United States army or navy at the time of any such solicitation, and will also make it unlawful for any person to engage in the sale of articles while wearing the uniform.

PREMIER NITTI GETS VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

ROME, Monday, July 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—The government of Premier Nitti which took office several weeks ago, tonight received a vote of confidence in the Chamber of Deputies. The vote passed by 257 to 111.

The Italian government, Premier Nitti announced in the Chamber of Deputies today, has taken ample measures to preserve order in view of the threat of a general strike throughout the country. Troops, he said, have been distributed everywhere in the country and they were provided with supplies for more than forty-eight hours in case they should be cut off from the bases.

There is no reason for a general strike in Italy, the premier continued. The government does not wish bloodshed and will do its utmost to prevent it.

Italy is the only country where a general strike should not occur, Signor Nitti asserted. Bolshevism is an Asiatic evil which could not spread to Italy.

The opposition with the anarchists, which occurred at Sestri Ponente, four miles west of Genoa, also resulted in the arrest of four anarchists.

A general strike began at Catania, Sicily. The people there marched through the streets crying "Vive Soviet!" and forced dealers in foodstuffs and other necessities to reduce their prices 50 per cent.

Unrestricted Trade With Germany Begins

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Practically unrestricted trade with Germany was begun today by American exporters for the first time in two years. In an order effective today the war trade section of the state department permitted communication and trade with Germany under the trading with the enemy act in all lines but dyestuffs, chemicals and potash.

Under the order they may export individual licenses, but may not under the same conditions as they did before the war—by filing declarations with the customs collector at the port of exit from the United States.

QUAY LEASE PROPOSED TO CITY RENEWED

A new proposal for a quay wall lease by the Howard Company, was set for a conference tomorrow in the city council, when Commissioner Davidenberg brought the matter up at today's meeting. The company has filed a new application providing for a fifteen-year lease, without a guarantee to build the pier, proposing to pay a net rental of $150 a month, and share dockage and tolls with the city, taking out ninety per cent to pay for their improvements, which eventually revert to the city. The share of improvements are paid for, to share this income, "fifty-fifty" with the city.

Soderberg asked for a conference in his office, but Mayor John L. Davis objected to this. "This is public business," said Davis, "and it should be thrashed out here in public. I am against these conferences, as we've had them for three years and never have gotten anywhere. I am against any quay wall lease anyhow."

"But you don't know what the proposition is yet," said Soderberg. "I know what it is, all right," said the mayor. "We've had this up before for three months. I am against it."

"If there is a new proposition, I think we ought to hear it," said Commissioner P. F. Morse.

"The Howard Company is entitled to a courteous hearing," said Commissioner W. H. Edwards, "whether the mayor's mind is made up against their proposition already or not. The hearing was set for tomorrow."

ALLEGED SHIPYARD THIEF ARRAIGNED

Bee H. Brecht, alleged to have stolen supplies and shipbuilding materials valued at more than $5,000, while an assistant storekeeper in the Moore Yards, was arraigned today in the police court by Judge Frank Mitchell, Jr., sitting for Police Judge Mortimer S. Brecht, as specified in a charging tool, valued at $50, and items of cordage and other supplies.

The arrest of Brecht, according to the police, disclosed in the Bremer case, that he had no accomplices or aid in his operations. He was arrested by Detectives Richard McSorley and Frank Rossick on information originally furnished in San Francisco by the investigation department of the U. S. Shipping Board.

Goods, said to have been stolen by Brecht, were discovered in the shop of Los Angeles, and a ship chandlery firm in San Francisco. According to J. J. Havside, of the firm, Brecht sold him the goods, representing that he was a contractor from Los Angeles, and that he had bought the goods for a job there, then lost the contract, and so desired to dispose of the material now useless. Havside named a price of $1,000 below market price, according to Havside.

Finally, when he appeared a third time, Havside says that his suspicions were aroused and he communicated with the authorities. A large amount of material was later found in the cellar of the Brecht home.

DEATH PLOT TO HIDE SHIPYARD FRAUDS HINTED

SEATTLE, July 15.—When the inquest into the death of Frederick A. Dowsey, United States Shipping Board secret agent, was begun this morning by a coroner's jury the two outstanding developments in the case were a disclosure made by Coroner C. C. Tiffin in which he reiterated his belief that Dowsey probably died of apoplexy, and the statement issued by H. E. Frick, northern district manager of the Emergency Fleet corporation, that nothing had been discovered in the corporation's records in which to base an accusation of fraud against anyone connected with shipbuilding interests in the district.

Coroner Tiffin, who was unable to be present because of duties at Camp Farwell, where, as a lieutenant in the medical department of the National Guard, he is participating in the summer instruction camp, says in his deposition that without the wound on the head he would diagnose the Dowsey death as "a plain case of apoplexy."

Frick, in his statement, pointed out that Major M. S. Game of San Francisco, who is directing the secret service investigation of Dowsey's death, has stated that he had access to all records and that "nothing in these records has been discovered on which to base an accusation of fraud against anyone connected with the shipbuilding interests in this district."

Burglar Call Takes Police to Vacant Lot

Did a burglar in Oakland early today "phone the police of a burglary, giving a fictitious address, so that he might pull a coup on the police?" This is the supposition, as a result of a call received that burglars were trying to enter at 827 Grand avenue. Patrolmen C. C. Peters and W. R. Jones rushed out to this location. Instead of arriving at a burglar-infested house, the patrolmen found that 827 was a vacant lot. They searched around the neighborhood, but found no trace.

The police believe that a burglar phoned the call after planning a real burglary and that his plans went awry.

Blames Liquor for Name on I. W. W. Roll

Signing up for "industrial freedom" on the honor roll of the local I. W. W. headquarters while under the influence of strong liquor, Dan L. Williams, alleged syndicalist, got himself in considerable trouble today developed in Police Judge George Samuels' court today that Williams signed up with the I. W. W. here while he was drunk. He was arrested July 10 by Patrolman Thompson. Thompson found Williams' name on the honor roll of the I. W. W. principles, he was dismissed.

British Ambassador to Washington Named

LONDON, July 15.—The new British ambassador to Washington, to succeed Lord Reading, has been appointed and the government hopes to announce his name next week. A. Law stated in the House of Commons this afternoon.

OPTION ON ASCOT PARK

A number of reasons are given for the establishment of a factory on the Pacific slope. First, there is already a business of over $13,000,000 yearly involving confusion and delays in delivery by freight from Ohio. Again, almost all Goodyear's crude rubber comes from Sumatra, Java, etc., and enters the United States through the Pacific port of San Francisco. Freight costs are shipped thousands of miles east to Akron, made up into finished product and then shipped back over the same long freight trail to the western territory.

The territory to be covered by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company of California embraces the states of California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Utah, Nevada, Wyoming, Colorado, Arizona, and New Mexico in this country, as well as an immense export field.

Goodyear also has immense cotton plantations in Arizona, in the Salt River valley, irrigated by the Roosevelt dam. At present the company has a cotton mill in Connecticut for the weaving of fine tire fabric. Goodyear also uses much cotton from the Imperial valley, San Joaquin valley and Leythe and Yuma plantations. This cotton has been shipped east to the Atlantic coast, spun, returned to the Akron factory, made up into finished products and then shipped to the factory west again for use. The new arrangement means short cuts of vast importance to the manufacturer, the dealer and the user of tires and other rubber products, as well as building up another great industry for the Pacific slope. Pacific ports for export trade are also at the new factory gates.

PRODUCE OWN COTTON

HOUSING CONDITIONS.

Another reason for the present enterprise is that Akron, by the way, is one of the world's largest tire factories, has grown so fast that housing conditions there are more than serious. Estimates are that it will require five to ten years to erect residences adequate to take proper care of Akron's workers, especially those with families.

UKIAH SLAYER SHOWS SULLEN, DEFIANT MOOD

SANTA ROSA, July 15.—Herman Knaesche, Ukiah wife slayer, today was exhibiting a dumb sullenness. He refuses now to either deny or confirm the confession he made to the authorities.

"My lips are sealed," he said, "until I see my attorney."

Knaesche, who confessed that he sent two charges from a shotgun into the body of his bride of two weeks, had entirely regained his composure today. He slept well throughout the night and is now defiant and courageous.

"I have talked too much already," he said. "Hereafter my attorney will act as my mouthpiece."

There were indications today that Knaesche would repudiate the confession he made to Sheriff Byrnes. He flatly refused to say, however, whether he would stand by the sworn statement he made to Byrnes.

"I seem to have been in a daze since the death of my wife," he said, "and I have not seen the confession since it was signed. I would like to read it over again and see if it is right."

Knaesche, a native of Germany, is confined in a padded cell, the authorities fearing that he may attempt suicide.

Hereditary insanity is expected to figure in the defense of Knaesche. A. A. Pettis, Port George attorney, said today that Knaesche's father had been insane at one time.

Knaesche appears to have recovered from the remorseful mood that followed his confession. He is apparently giving considerable thought to a fight for his life in the courts.

WAR TRUCK SHOWS BATTLE SCARS

"Uncle Sam's Hero Truck," equipped with the original millimeter tires of the D. F. Goodrich Rubber company, proudly bearing the scars of battle in both the Chateau Thierry and Argonne offensives, took part in the procession yesterday in San Francisco under the direction of the Motor Transport Corps of the United States Army.

Because of its historic participation in the great events which ended the war, the war department has sent this truck, mechanically perfect "Hero Truck" to San Francisco for exhibition and recruiting duty. It is a veteran hero, proud of its wounds, a powerful exhibit of the Spartan qualities of its equipment.

Marks of shot and shell are readily observed on the tires, and they show the tremendous performance which they have accomplished. Yet, though they have carried the truck loaded with a dead weight of the fourteen ton French gun more than 12,000 miles under the most unfavorable conditions, still the executives of the Motor Transport Corps continue them in service. It is an exhibition of the American skill and efficiency and makes manifest the spirit of the American manufacturer, which did so much to help win the war.

One of the soldiers who was with Uncle Sam's Hero Truck from the time it left for overseas duty, Private N. L. Thomas, with it in San Francisco. Private Thomas says he has an affection for the truck, every part of it—from its shell struck tires to its topmost strand, like that of a locomotive engineer who has been in daily association with his engine. It's a pet for him.

"We're proud of this truck," said Thomas today. "It helped win the goods in American fashion. I've legs, and I mean the tires, triumphed under a grueling experience. But she wasn't handicapped by being flat. She may be banged up a bit, but she's not from wounds nor rheumatism."

RETURN ROADS AT ONCE PLAN OF CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Government ownership of railroads, or the extension of federal control beyond the end of the calendar year, will be given little consideration at this session of Congress, Chairman Esch of the House Interstate Commerce committee, said today.

Esch, in opening the hearings on the bill to regulate the railroads after their return to their owners on December 31, 1919, by the president, said the plans of Republicans are to get the roads back as soon as possible with better regulatory legislation than existed before the war.

"In view of widespread sentiment against government ownership or a five-year extension of federal control," Esch said, "we will not give much time to these questions in our hearings, believing that the general desire of the country is to perfect regulation before government ownership is undertaken."

Esch said the committee would give serious consideration to amendments to the Clayton and Sherman anti-trust acts.

"We plan to continue under strict regulation the advantages of federal control, such as joint use of equipment, consolidation of lines and better use of equipment, but to do this, the anti-trust act must be amended," Esch said.

Chairman Clark of the Interstate Commerce Commission, first witness in the hearings, in general approved the plan of Esch to give the committee broader control of the transportation lines after their return to their owners.

He urged the extension of control to water transportation lines, particularly coastwise steamers.

FOUR IN AUTO WRECK HAVE CLOSE CALL

Thrown to the pavement when the big automobile in which they were driving was struck by a small machine and overturned at Thirteenth and Alce streets at noon today, four persons had a narrow escape from fatal injuries.

A. J. Kennedy of Fresno, who was driving the big car, was picked up by a passing autost and rushed to the Emergency hospital. He suffered a badly cut hand and was considerably bruised and shaken up, but his injuries were only minor and he was soon able to leave the hospital.

Mrs. L. P. Gilmore, a sister-in-law of Kennedy, living at 3506 Opal street, Mrs. D. D. Brandt of 2723 East Fifteenth street, and Mrs. Addie Miller of 5117 Broadway, who were all in the overturned car, were badly shaken up, but did not suffer serious injuries.

Kennedy was driving south on Alce street when the rear of the car and his car was struck in the center by the small machine in charge of W. H. Schmidt of 532 Wood street, who was going east on Thirteenth street. Schmidt had storm curtains up, but says that he could see very plainly.

ELECTRIC RAIL SERVICE FACES FAILURE, CLAIM

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Under existing conditions and with revenue they are now receiving, the electric railways cannot continue to perform the functions expected of them, John H. Parden, president of the American Electric Railway Association, today told the federal electric railways commission. The commission was appointed by President Wilson to investigate the situation confronting local transportation interests throughout the country.

"It is no longer a question of what shall be allowed to the owners of the railways," Parden said, "it is a question as to what service, if any, shall be rendered to the public."

Asserting it was not the purpose of the railway representatives "to make a case" before the commission, Parden said they appeared to give the facts in the situation in the hope a solution might be found satisfactory to the public, employees and owners alike, interested as they all were in maintaining good service at reasonable cost.

Outstanding phases of the situation demanding attention, he continued, are the "absolutely uneconomic" and "unsatisfactory" basis upon which the relations between the public and electric railways have rested since the inauguration of the enterprise, and placing of many additional burdens upon companies by the government as war exigencies without any sort of relief. Included in the war program, to which Parden said the electric railways readily subscribed, was the raising of employees' wages as much as 100 per cent, the control of the price and delivery of coal, the fixing of prices of other commodities and, in many cases, the prescribing of service to be given.

NAVAL OFFICERS GIVEN PROMOTION

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Ten naval officers have been promoted to the permanent rank of rear admiral and seven others to the temporary rank upon recommendations of the naval selection board, approved by President Wilson.

Benjamin C. Bryan, Edward Simpson, Gustav Kaemmerling, Alexander Halstead, Roger Welles and William Shoemaker become rear admirals as of July 1, and Edward W. Eberle, Robert E. Condit, W. G. H. Bullard and Philip Andrews will become permanent rear admirals as vacancies occur. Captains Clarence A. Carr, Harry A. Field, Casey B. Morgan, Lloyd H. Chandler, Herman C. Stokney, Nathan C. Twining and Thomas J. Magruder become temporaries as vacancies occur.

ROME, N. Y., July 15.—With 200 state troops patrolling the industrial section, the city is quiet today following factory strike riots in which several persons were injured.

Phone Strike May Be Settled Soon Leaders Say Crisis Now Reached Retroactive Pay the Real Issue

That the crisis in the telephone strike has been reached is the belief of local strike leaders. With international representatives of the women operators and electrical workers in conference with Postmaster Burleson and Assistant Postmaster Koons, in Washington, D. C., it is expected that within the next thirty-six hours at least some definite announcement of a satisfactory agreement will be made.

In the meantime locals throughout the Pacific Coast are sending telegrams to the international office urging them to take steps toward calling a national strike of all the Bell Telephone Company employees, in an endeavor to use that power to force the postal authorities to grant the demands of the workers on the Pacific Coast. Miss Nellie Johnson, international vice president of the operators union, on behalf of the local girls has forwarded the wire to headquarters.

WANT ISSUES DECIDED. Retroactive pay from January 1, 1919, is the issue which has been the present difficulty. The union leaders express themselves of the opinion that should the wires be returned to private ownership before an agreement is reached, the settlement of the retroactive pay will die in committee room at Washington without consideration. The lines revert to private ownership on July 21, unless favorable word is received from Washington before that meeting tomorrow night, the electrical workers' local will, it is declared, introduce a resolution calling upon the Great Western Power and Telephone Company, and other companies, to refuse service to the Pacific Telephone Company.

The California Federation of Labor has sent a wire to President Wilson urging him to direct Postmaster Burleson to recognize the rights of the thousands of girl telephone operators.

With mayors of the cities of the coast, unions, women's clubs and local appointed committees and men's organizations, wiring President Wilson, Postmaster Burleson, and senators and congressmen from California to take action toward a speedy settlement of the difficulties between the operators and the telephone companies, no replies have been made public. It is claimed that none have been received.

LETTERS FROM FULLERTON. D. P. Fullerton, superintendent of plant for the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, in reply to a communication from Mayor Louis Bartlett of Berkeley, asking for particulars regarding the length of service of the operators, received today wrote:

"Irrespective of the amount of wages to be paid operators, the firm from years of experience in the matter of determining these wages that a schedule which provides additional compensation for additional years served tends to retain in the service the more expert and resourceful employees and consequently increases the percentage of employees who remain longer in the service. The larger percentage of the operators today have less than three years' service, which is a condition we hope to improve by the new wage scale."

Fullerton's letter referred to the government's responsibility and to the fact that the federal wire board might authorize pay for the girls for the time during which they were under its jurisdiction. Senator Hiram Johnson today wired Miss Jessie J. Burdett, president of the Business and Woman's Professional Club of Alameda county, that he had taken up with Postmaster Burleson the matter of the telephone strike and would advise her later as to the outcome. Miss Wood telegraphed Senator Johnson yesterday, urging him to use his influence toward a settlement.

BIGAMY CHARGE MADE BY WOMAN FOUR FRANCHISES TO BE ABANDONED

Mrs. Grace M. Kinney testified today before Judge A. F. St. Sure in her suit for annulment of marriage to Fred P. Kinney, that she was his third wife. Some of the other wives are not divorced and according to her testimony her husband is a bigamist. District Attorney's office is making an investigation of the situation.

According to her testimony Kinney, who has been an officer on a ferry boat, was divorced in Washington in October, 1913. Under the law he was not entitled to remarry within six months. But he waited only a month and a day until he married the plaintiff. Later he deserted, and subsequently she found a letter from a woman who signed as "Mary" who, according to the letter, he was planning to marry. Mrs. Kinney went to Oregon and met a former wife of the defendant, Mrs. Edith Corbush, who told her that he had been possessed of one or two wives in that state prior to her marriage. Mrs. Kinney tired it out that she was at least number three in the matrimonial chain that Kinney is building. She was granted an annulment.

Attempted Bribe Charged to Prisoner

That Charles Hardison, a negro, offered Officer J. O'Connell a bribe of $50 to this liberty when O'Connell arrested him on June 21 in connection with the theft of $200 from Mrs. Edith Heath, 728 Willow street, was part of the evidence introduced today in the preliminary examination of Hardison before Police Judge George Samuels.

Hardison had a room adjoining the room of Mr. and Mrs. Heath, it is charged. Mrs. Heath claimed $200 under her pillow and suspects Hardison of taking it. The police say that Hardison was recently prosperous and that Mrs. Heath reported the theft, that he gave $120 to T. Pango, 1632 Seventh street, to keep for him.

Two Boys Run Away to Join U. S. Navy

Two would-be champions of Uncle Sam's cause are adrift somewhere in the bay district and they are frantically sought by their parents at Patterson, Stanislaus county. Police aid has been requested by the parents of both boys. The missing boys, Logan Jones, age 15, and Alvin Fields, age 16, left Patterson, telling bay friends they were coming to Oakland to join the navy. As the two lads are overgrown for their age the parents fear they will falsify their ages to a recruiting agent.

FINGER-PRINTS SAME; MAN HELD

The finger-print mark on a small piece of glass from a shattered window at the residence of George D. Greenwood, 1530 Jackson street, scene of the bomb outrage that caused the death of Mrs. Greenwood, caused Lester Lewis, charged with burglary, to be held to answer in the superior court today. Lewis is charged with forcing an entrance to the Greenwood home. He stole only a hat, the police charge. He was arraigned today before Police Judge Frank Mitchell Jr. His bail was set at $2,000.

The star witness for the prosecution was Police Inspector Frank Paulson, in the police identification bureau. Paulson went to the scene of the Greenwood home burglary and took place statements. He took one piece and, magnifying it, discovered a finger-print. The finger-print was recorded.

When the police arrested Lester Lewis on suspicion, he was taken to the identification bureau. There Inspector Paulson took his fingerprints. The finger-print expert today testified in court that the prints on both glass and Lewis' fingers are the same.

THE JUANA TO BECOME LIKE MONTECARLO?

The Juana, just across the border from San Diego, bids fair to realize its oft-thwarted ambition to become the Monte Carlo of the North American continent. Ever since city councils and state legislatures began to squabble over the question of whether or not to allow the Juana to become a place where devotees could find such pastimes and engage in them without fear of the law's interference.

When racing was legislated out of California James W. Coffroth of San Francisco and a few persons of kindred inclinations gave the Lower California town its first encouragement and constructed there a race track. This venture has not proved wholly successful, nor has it expanded into Monte Carlo proportions.

Now, however, there has come to Oakland word that certain interests have pledged more than $1,500,000 to reopen the Juana, build a big casino and otherwise transform the place. Just who the men are behind the venture is not made public, but those who have information of the plan assert that the big bank roll is the result of a belief that there is little hope that the Shepard prohibition amendment will be defeated, and that those who contributed are men who have made fortunes in the liquor business.

MAX AWAIT DRY LAW.

So far the only part of the plan that is under construction is the race track, and it is said that the casino may not be started until it is decided that the bone-dry law will become effective in this country. Although no statement to that effect has been made it is assumed that the promoters have been assured of the co-operation of Governor Cantu of Lower California and the authorities at the City of Mexico. It was not believed they would risk such large sums until certain they were not to have opposition from Mexican authorities.

A bitter fight was waged against the resort the last time it was opened on a pretentious scale. Church and other organizations sought to have traffic across the international line restricted to such an extent that the place could not thrive.

Lately the restrictions at the international line have been much less rigid than they were a few months ago. The attempt to reopen the Juana doubtless will precipitate a fight, it was said today, similar to that waged against the horse racing project and prize fighting enterprises at Tia Juana launched by Coffroth.

Another attempt to persuade the authorities at Washington to close the border if the resort is re-established on such a pretentious scale is anticipated.

Pacific Fleet Due Here August 15 President Is to Enter S. F. Harbor

The newly organized Pacific fleet will sail into San Francisco Bay, August 15, if the tentative plans decided on in a conference between Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels and Admiral Hugh Rodman, commander of the fleet in Washington yesterday, are carried out. This will mean that the great public demonstration which is being arranged to celebrate the historical arrival will probably take place on that date.

The program outlined calls for the review of the fleet by President Willard, who is to go aboard the flagship New Mexico with Secretary Daniels outside the Golden Gate and enter the harbor with the armada. Admiral Rodman's fleet will remain in the bay a week or ten days. Ships will be sent into every Pacific port that can accommodate them, where they will be open for inspection by the public. The men will be given a chance to go ashore and acquaintances with the people at the ports will be encouraged.

RECRUITING CAMPAIGN.
A recruiting campaign will be launched on the Pacific Coast with the arrival of the ships. Recruits will be permitted to enlist on any ship they select.

The Pacific fleet is scheduled to sail from Hampton Roads on July 15, three days earlier than originally planned. Two squadrons of 14 destroyers will act as escort. They will steam in the form of a triangle with the main body of the fleet inside. The run to the Atlantic entrance of the Panama Canal will take at least six days. In the neighborhood of 100 ships will make the cruise.

TO TEST WATERWAY.
The fleet will be put through the canal on war time basis to test the efficiency of the waterway, as a strategic asset in its relation to the operation of the naval forces. A stop of a few days will be made in Gatun lake.

San Diego will welcome the armada about August 7 or 8. After a three-day sojourn in the bay, the fleet will proceed to San Pedro for the second coast stop. From San Francisco the ocean trip will be continued to Puget Sound. The demonstration will be made at Bremerton Navy Yard.

The New Mexico, with Secretary Daniels and the official party on board, accompanied by one other dreadnaught and escorted by two divisions of destroyers will proceed to the Hawaiian group, to participate in the opening of the great new drydock at Pearl Harbor.

TO SAIL JULY 19.
Information concerning the vessels that will make up the fleet were received today at the local Naval recruiting office in Liberty Hill, City Hall Plaza. The official communication is as follows:

The Navy Department announces the following information concerning the Pacific fleet: It is directed that you give fullest publicity to the following:

BEATS RUG AS WASHING HANGS OUT; FINED $50

BOSTON, July 15.—Has a woman who lives upstairs the right to beat her rugs at a time when the washing of the family downstairs is hanging out and right in the path of the rug dust?

Mrs. Bessie Gordon, who lives downstairs in a house in Dorchester, thinks not, it developed when she was found guilty in the Dorchester court of damaging personal property belonging to Mrs. Frances Friedman. Mrs. Friedman alleged that Mrs. Gordon had slashed a $75 parlor rug of hers after she had beaten it over the protest of Mrs. Gordon that the rug was washing was out.

Mrs. Gordon was fined $50. She appealed.

Overseas Forces Now Reduced to 337,339 Soldiers

WASHINGTON, July 15.—American overseas forces aggregated 337,339 officers and men on July 8, according to an official announcement today. On the same date 100,000 troops were at sea en route to the United States and 389,000 were in this country.

Lusitania Damage Suits Dismissed

NEW YORK, July 15.—A final decree dismissing all damage suits against the Cunard Steamship Company as the result of the torpedoing of the Lusitania and barring any similar suits which might be brought in future, was signed in the United States District Court by Judge Julius M. Mayer. A total of 64 claims, totaling between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000 has been brought against the company.

In his decree Judge Mayer intimated that the claimants might be reimbursed for their pecuniary losses through indemnities collected by the United States from the German government.

226 U. S. AIRMEN ORDERED SOUTH

That men from the bay cities, now at Mather field, may be ordered to the border for aero service is thought possible by relatives and friends of the local air soldiers. Following a conference it was decided by leaders in the army's Western Department to begin an air patrol in the border district, within the department's jurisdiction. A squadron of 15 planes, manned by forty-three officers and 183 enlisted men, has been ordered from Mather field to the March aero location in the south.

Colonel Henry L. Watson, well known locally, will have command of the new air patrol, according to Colonel H. H. Arnold, Western Department air service officer. The new plans were adopted in El Paso. The choice of personnel is awaited anxiously by local friends and relatives of men in the Mather field air service.

1,000,000 SHEEP ARE DROWNED IN ARGENTINA

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Monday, July 14.—Government reports show that 1,000,000 sheep and 100,000 cattle have been drowned in floods in the southern part of Buenos Aires province. The railways and telegraphic communication have been interrupted and several sections in that region have been completely isolated for more than a week.

The floods were due to a month of the heaviest rainfall ever recorded here.

Over on the Chilean side of the Argentina there have been further heavy snowfalls along the trans-Andine railway, causing new damage to the line. The snowfall in this region has been nearly continuous for a month and in some places is more than twenty-five feet deep.

A small party of Americans arrived overland from the Pacific seaport of Antofagasta, Chile, last night. They reported almost unendurable hardships during their week's journey.

CISTERN GAS EXPLODES.
BLOOMINGTON, Ill., July 15.—Gas, believed to have formed on city water confined in a cistern at the Soldiers' Orphans' Home in Normal, exploded when Engineer Patrick Carrigan approached it with a lighted lantern. Carrigan was thrown twenty-five feet by the blast and severely injured.

PIONEER EXPRESS WORKER BURIED

ALAMEDA, July 15.—Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon for Nathan Stein, old-time Wells Fargo man, who died Saturday at his home, 1045 Santa Clara avenue. Stein was a friend of J. J. Valentine, former president of Wells Fargo Express, and has many other friends among the old-time Californians.

Stein's work as an overland express worker in the west began at St. Joseph, Mo., in 1881 when he started work with the Pike's Peak Express Co., first as messenger to Denver, then in the St. Joseph office and later as agent at Central City, Colorado.

Stein entered the employ of Wells Fargo after the Wells Fargo concern bought the Holladay express interests and consolidated different concerns into one big company. He was on duty for a time at Omaha and later at Salt Lake City.

Stein wrote much verse in his younger days, generally on western and express topics, especially on the pony express rider and the western stage driver. He is survived by his widow. He was a member of Oak Grove Lodge, F. & A. M., and of Alameda Chapter, R. A. M. The funeral services were under the auspices of Oak Grove Lodge.

A fact:

Even here in the Casino, world famed as the centre of society's inner circle, Fatima comes into its own. The steadily increasing preference is not, as one might suppose, for some fancy, extravagant straight Turkish brand—but for this simple, inexpensive "just-enough-Turkish" cigarette—Fatima.

"Just enough Turkish"

NEWPORT, in other words, has found the answer to "How much Turkish?"—the same answer as that shown by Fatima's leadership at Palm Beach, Atlantic City and French Lick.

These smokers like Fatima's taste and—more important—they find that, as compared with straight Turkish cigarettes, Fatimas enable them to smoke without any worry as to "too many."

Do you suppose Fatimas might be an improvement over your present cigarette on this question of "How much Turkish?"

TWO CIVIL SERVICE BOARD MEMBERS ARE LEFT WITH PUZZLE

Whether the Civil Service Board, minus one member through the refusal of the majority in the city council to confirm the mayor's appointment of Preston Higgins, will organize and transact business tonight, when the case of Ralph York, chief clerk to Commissioner Fred Soderberg, and recently suspended from duty, is scheduled to be decided, is the big question about the city hall today. J. F. Chambers and Ralph Fisher, the present members of the board, say that they do not know yet what can be done. Chambers says that "without three members the Civil Service Board probably cannot organize, and certainly can do no work after the first deadlock comes, whenever it does." In the meantime the resignation of George Kaufman from the board and the resulting dispute in the council over confirmation of Higgins' appointment has brought to light a number of "inside" stories of recent dealings in the board. According to Commissioner F. F. Morse, certain of his employees were told by Kaufman shortly before he resigned, that "you can get no consideration while Morse holds the department he does." Morse says that he understands that Preston Higgins has criticized him, and says that his principal reason for refusing to confirm him is the fear that Higgins will adopt an attitude similar to that which he says Kaufman maintained.

TELLS OF CONFERENCE.
"The night they buried John Barleycorn," said Morse, "Mr. Kaufman and Mr. Soderberg came to my house. Kaufman talked at great length; he talked about private secretaries of commissioners, suggesting that commissioners be allowed to choose their own men, and intimating that we, the commissioners, were too slow to give him opportunity to shake things up. I gained the impression that Mr. Soderberg had been given to understand that any charges, no matter how unimportant had been agreed on as sufficient for him to take action on in York's case. I have since seen the charges in question. Kaufman also told me that I should have placed the incident of Captain Brown, whom I suspended, before him to be smoked out.

FEARS HIGGINS' ATTITUDE.
"Just before this I had been told by one of my employees who had gone before Kaufman to obtain a raise, that Kaufman had informed

CAR GOES OVER BANK; ALAMEDA WOMEN HURT

Two Alameda women were seriously injured at 3:30 this morning when an automobile in which they were starting on their vacation to Lake Tahoe went over a bank on the Tunnel road. The two others in the machine escaped with slight hurts. The injured are:

Mrs. Dora Heinsohn, 1716 Grand street, three fractures of the right leg.

Mrs. E. B. Jensen, 2255 Pacific avenue, fracture of the left arm. Miss E. Forner, 1348 Webster, bruise on the forehead. Edwin Heinsohn, son of Mrs. Dora Heinsohn, driver of the machine, shock and bruises.

The car left the road when the driver stooped down to try to dislodge a water canteen that cluttered his driving space. The instant he took his eye off the road the car swerved and went over. It did not turn turtle and stopped a few feet down in the brush. None of the occupants were thrown out, and the injuries were caused by the baggage, which crowded the car, Mrs. Heinsohn falling over it and Mrs. Jensen falling against Mrs. Heinsohn.

A passing machine took them to the Receiving hospital and after receiving treatment they were conveyed in an ambulance to the Alameda sanitarium.

NEW WATER PIPING SYSTEM IS ASKED

That the sheet iron pipes carrying water to the Lake Merritt pumping station, where the city's high pressure water mains are supplied, are useless, and that an earthquake would destroy them and put the entire high pressure system out of commission, is the statement of Fire Chief Elliott Whitehead. Whitehead has filed with the budget committee of the city council a request for standard cast iron piping of sufficient strength to insure safety in any unusual strain.

The sheet iron pipes were installed when the pumping station was first built, in the interest of economy. Some time ago it was found that electrolysis, from street car currents, had eaten away portions of the pipes, which were replaced. The current was found by fire department electricians and "grounded." Whitehead says that the entire sheet iron system is a failure and now asks complete new installation.

My Baby's First Summer

When the days and the nights began to be hot and sultry, my baby began to droop. He lost a little weight and he was fretful at night—he who had always slept so well.

I thought a baby properly cared for should be as well and as happy in summer as in winter, so I asked my doctor.

"Why, of course," he said. "We'll give him Nestlé's Milk Food."

So now I know I don't have to be afraid of hot weather. With plenty of cool baths and light enough clothing, and with Nestlé's digesting easily in that little stomach, my baby goes happily on to health and strength.

Nestlé's is just pure milk in powder form, to which has been added cereal and sugar. You only add water to it and boil.

I know the Nestlé Company will be glad to send you, free, enough Nestlé's Food for twelve feedings, and a very good Mother's Book on how to take care of babies, if you will fill out and send the coupon to them. They want to take away your fear of hot weather, as they did mine.

How to Keep Your Hands Looking Young and Beautiful

By LUCREZIA BORI
The Famous Spanish Prima Donna

It is said that the hands tell the tale of age even more clearly than the face. Don't let your hands look old. As middle-age advances the skin on the hands frequently becomes wrinkled and that beneath the nails grows paler.

The muscles of your hands as well as those of your face will respond to massage. A glycerine massage cream which is very softening to the hands is made of these ingredients:

Oil of almonds..... 1/2 pint
White wax..... 5 drams
Spermaceti..... 5 drams
Glycerine..... 1 1/2 ounces
Oil of bergamot..... 1 1/2 drams
Oil of lemon..... 1 1/2 drams
Oil of geranium..... 1 1/2 drams
Oil of neroli..... 40 drops
Oil of cinnamon..... 40 drops
Rosewater..... 5 ounces

Melt the first three ingredients in a double boiler, keeping it at the lowest possible temperature to avoid excessive heat. When pouring in the almond oil, stir continually. Add the glycerine after the oil of almonds. Then pour in the rosewater in a fine, steady stream, beating the mixture constantly. The other oils, which are the perfumed oils, should be added last, after the cream has nearly reached the point of solidification.

This cream is both healing and softening, and protects the skin from the burning effect of sun and wind.

Most of the massage creams, whose object is to soften and whiten the hands, should be applied at night, though the application of a little glycerine and rosewater after your hands have been exposed to immersion in water will be found beneficial in keeping them smooth.

If your household cares necessitate the frequent immersion of your hands possess rounded nails with a well-kept cuticle line should be the ambition of every woman.

Nothing speaks feminine daintiness so quickly as well-kept nails. The shape, color and sheen of the nails are the crowning attractions of a beautiful hand, and as they show the slightest neglect we are apt to judge a stranger's culture and refinement by these evidences of care and fastidiousness.

If you desire to whiten and to soften your hands with the least delay possible, it is an advantage to wear cosmetic gloves at night after the application of a bleaching and emollient paste. The hands themselves may be coated thickly with soap paste and the gloves drawn on. A pair of ordinary chambray gloves are good for this purpose. A cosmetic paste may be prepared as follows:

Myrrh..... 1 ounce
Benzoin..... 4 ounces
Yellow wax..... 2 ounces
Rosewater..... 6 ounces
Melt the wax in a double boiler. Then add the myrrh, which should be powdered. Beat them thoroughly together. Add the benzoin, which should be finely powdered, and add sufficient glycerine—little by little—to make a spreadable paste. This application may be used nightly and washed off with castile soap or almond meal each morning.

Bedtime Story

By Howard R. Garis

"Where are we going this vacation, Uncle Wiggly?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy one morning, as the rabbit gentleman finished breakfast in his hollow stump bungalow.

"Oh, we may go to the mountains or the seashore, Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy," he answered the mischievous hoochee.

"Or we may take week-end trips in our strong automobile," said Nurse Jane.

"What would he like to think," said Nurse Jane, and then she hopped out into the kitchen, for she feared she smelled a cherry pie burning. But this pie was not for eating.

A little while after that Uncle Wiggly started out in his machine to look for an adventure, as he did nearly every day.

"And while I'm out I'll be thinking about our vacation," he said to Nurse Jane.

Away rode the rabbit gentleman and soon he was chiding along through the woods, wondering what would happen to him. He was not very long before Mr. Longears heard a rustling in the bushes. He slowed down his machine and looked on both sides of the path.

"What was that?" he asked himself. "I wouldn't want to run into or run over the Bazoeka, the Pipewhisser or the Buzzer, would I? I wouldn't want to run over the Buzzer, would I?"

"The rustling noise grew louder, and just as Uncle Wiggly was about to speed up and hurry away, out from behind the bushes came Neddie Stubbly, the little boy bear.

"What a ride, Eddie," asked Uncle Wiggly.

"Indeed I do!" laughed the brown, shaggy chap, and into the seat he climbed.

"Were you at school today, Neddie?" asked Uncle Wiggly.

"Oh, yes, I was," said Neddie. "And you ought to have seen what happened."

"What was it? Did a strange cat get in and try to catch the lady mouse teacher?"

"No! It was worse than that!" said Neddie. "Pecdie Bow Wow, the puppy dog boy, he—"

"What was that?" asked Mr. Longears. "The school is closed for the day. You don't want to go back there, do you? The lady mouse teacher isn't there, and all the boys and girls animals must have gone long ago."

"Well, he's the janitor rat gentleman, he'll be there," said Neddie. "I forgot my stick, and I want to get it before dark. We can have some fun with the stick, can't we, Neddie?" he asked.

"Oh, yes indeed! If you could take Pecdie back, so he could get his stick before the janitor rat comes away, it'd be a great favor," spoke the little bear.

"All right. Hop in, Pecdie, and we'll go to the school, even though lessons are over for the day," said jolly Uncle Wiggly. And as he took his place beside Neddie Stubbly, Uncle Wiggly thought to himself:

"I suppose he forgot his baseball bat stick, or maybe a stick to roll a hoop or something like that. Boys have so many kinds of sticks to play with. Anyhow it can't be a booby stick for they only use those in winter, on the ice."

Soon Uncle Wiggly was at the hollow stump school. The old rat gentleman janitor, who had finished sweeping, was just locking the doors, but he waited until the little boy and his friend came in.

"Then just as the puppy dog was coming out to get back in the auto, there loomed up a big stick from the hand of a soft and fluffy nosed Bazoeka."

"Oh, wow! howled the Bazoeka. 'Pecdie! I have caught you without chasing you! Come now, Uncle Wiggly, I want a lot of mouse off your ears!'"

"Dear me!" said the rabbit gentleman. "This is very sudden!" Then, as he saw the Bazoeka was so angry, Uncle Wiggly suddenly became brave.

"You shall not have my mouse!" cried Mr. Longears. "Neither my mouse shall you have, nor yet Pecdie's nor even Neddie's. Here, Pecdie! Let me have that stick of yours. I'll show this Bazoeka how a stick feels on his soft and fluffy nose. Quick, Pecdie, hand me the stick you lost in school!"

"Oh, but Uncle Wiggly! It isn't that kind of a stick!" said Pecdie.

"No matter, any kind of a stick will do to beat the Bazoeka's soft nose," said Uncle Wiggly boldly and bravely. And when the Bazoeka heard this, he cried:

"Don't beat me! I don't want my nose with a stick! I'll be glad if I go away and not bother you, and he didn't get a single word of mouse, which served him right, I think."

"You should have been a little quicker in handing me your mouse," said Uncle Wiggly when all was quiet again.

"It wouldn't have been any good,"

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

ADELE GARRISON

WHAT WILLIAM SAW AND HEARD IN THE WOODS.
"Why, she's a crook, that's what she is," William responded. "Just plain crook, as the planners' some mischief again you, Miss Gramie, as sure as you're born."

"Did you hear her say anything that makes you think so, William?" I asked craftily as he paused again.

"Or do you just judge her because she was waiting for the pedlar in that lonely place by the trolley tracks?"

"Did I hear her say anything?" he repeated. "Did I hear her say anything?"

"Well, Miss Gramie, you just wait till I tell you what I heard her tell that pedlar, an' I guess you'll think I'm right."

"All right, William," I returned soothingly. "Go on and tell me exactly what she said."

"YOU'RE WORKIN' FOR ME."
William's deep breath. Evidently he was about to start at last in earnest on his story.

"See it was this way," he began. "Me and Pete was spyin' up at 'em on the top of the bank, but there was some vines an' underbrush that kind of spread over us so they couldn't see us. If the Draper gal and the man had looked around a bit they couldn't have helped a-catchin' us, but I guess they thought they was safe there. I s'pose the girl had looked the ground over afore the man got there—she's smart enough to think of everythin'."

William's eyes betrayed deep admiration for "the Draper gal's" talent in spite of his disapproval of her. "See, she was mad when the fellow come pastin' up to her! He went on 'You see, while he was running he had taken off that gray wig of his an' stuffed it in his pocket. I s'pose, an' he had a deep breath, but his face somewhere—though there weren't no water around the way we went—anyway his face was clean, an' with his yellow hair he looked like a 2-cent coin."

William shook his head in puzzled reflection over the man's skill in getting his face washed. I started to question him concerning the box of hair cream which he had seen in the man's pocket, but he wouldn't say anything more about it.

"I couldn't help smiling at William's simile. Of course, I recognized the author's spirit of research, but I was a woman, and I literally held my breath as I waited for William to depict Grace Draper's answer to the man's words."

"That Draper gal has got gall!" William went on half-admiringly. "She thought she was all alone with that fellow, but she wasn't a bit afraid of him. She said, 'You poor fool! You're a crook, but remember you're in this country now, not in your own, an' you are working for me, me, me!'"

"I tell you, Miss Gramie, that fellow looked like the devil at her. Then he spoke so fast an' smooth I could scarce hear him."

"Oh, a stick of candy," I said with a smile. "It was only a stick of peppermint candy. I had it in class and teacher took it away from me, but she said it could have it back after school. That's why I was in such a hurry."

"WHERE WERE YOU WHEN I TELEPHONED TO YOUR OFFICE TODAY?"

Good Evening, Friends—

"Where were you?" says she. "Where were you this morning at 10 when I phoned to your office?" You said you were always in your office at 10, and I phoned and you weren't there. An' yesterday I saw you on Broadway at 2:30 just standing an' talking an' laughing an' not doing a thing, and you told me you were so busy this week you positively couldn't take me down to Carmel!"

And it's VERY STRANGE that you spend the WHOLE DAY just laughing with a man on Broadway and you can't take three days off once a year to take me to Carmel, when you know the doctor says that if I don't—and what were you saying to that man anyway? I don't see why you can't tell me more about your business? Why, Dotie Emerson's husband tells her EVERY SINGLE THING about his business! He wouldn't dream of making a move without her advice. An' everyone knows that a woman's intuition is perfectly wonderful, and all my friends know how intuitive I am, for I've just learned the longest document ever drafted at the peace table.

For we don't own our husbands and they don't own us. We're separate and distinct individuals, with separate and distinct jobs and responsibilities. We've united in one of the many forms of partnership of which the human animal is capable—and this particular form of partnership we call marriage. If we work it right, with plenty of humor and sympathy and common sense it helps us with our individual jobs, but the job still remain our own personal business and our souls still remain our own personal possession, and the mate that butts in too much on OOR possession is going to get her own or himself kicked—that's all there is to it. This "two souls made one" slogan is like some real estate arguments—it sounds fine and it sells a lot of lots, but when the husband has died, you're back to the same old daily grind of paying taxes and earning three squares per. Which isn't a bad grind after all if you don't keep stripping the gears by a lot of fool notions and irritating conversation.

My metaphors are badly mixed, but it is this: If your yoke mate is hauling his load steady and fair, let him haul it in his own way. And don't ask for the details. It's bad enough to have to spend twelve hours on the rock pile without having to describe each individual rock that you smash.

At which point Bill seized the parlor lamp, the Morris chair and the Persian cat and threw them at the weeping lady. No, he didn't either. He used to say when he was a bachelor that he would throw those articles if "anything like that was sprung on him," but he doesn't—not a bit of it. He just scrooches down farther in his chair, and frowns harder—and then roars his woe out to the first friend he meets the next day.

Just like every other son of Adam has done since the first poor fool came home from his first day at the office and faced the first vivisection conference. All of which moved me to once more attain unpopularity.

There ought to be a ritual for young wives—also for those who have been married from five to fifty years—said ritual to be repeated three times every hour until firmly rooted in the brain tissues. Here it is: "I don't own my husband; I don't own my husband; I don't own my husband. That's all—just those few simple words, as easy to learn as a nursery rhyme, but a big sight more important to the harmony and happiness of the human species than the longest document ever drafted at the peace table."

India Will Increase Cotton Production

LONDON, July 15.—A committee appointed by the government of India to consider how to improve and increase the cotton cultivation of that country, has made its report recommending the appointment of a permanent central cotton committee in Bombay, to put into effect a cotton policy of improvement.

The survey of American production and increasing consumption, and of the world shortage of cotton makes it desirable, according to the committee, that the Lancashire cotton industry should cease to be so dependent upon the American supply.

Reign of Terror From Fire Ends

SANTA BARBARA, July 15.—The reign of terror which has been caused by mysterious fires in the Montecito district was ended yesterday when Sheriff James Ross announced that Mateo Costa, 30, had confessed to having set two fires Saturday. One burned over a large section of pasture land, threatening several estates, and the other destroyed the house of E. D. Wetmore. The fires were within a short distance of the estate purchased by William G. Macadoo as a building site for himself and President Wilson.

U. S. PLANS FOR WOUNDED TOLD

There is now on display in the Oakland free library, corner of Fourteenth and Grove streets, a graphic exhibit on rehabilitation of the crippled and blinded, consisting of eighteen posters that tell the story of the disabled man's return to useful employment. The exhibit was issued jointly by the Red Cross institute for crippled and disabled men and the Red Cross institute for the blind.

Practically every step in the injured man's journey back to a life of self-support is pictured in this unique exhibit which concerns itself, not only with the disabled soldier but with the man temporarily incapacitated by an accident in the course of his civilian occupation.

U. S. PURPOSE TOLD.
The first panel entitled "Facts of Interest to the Disabled Soldier or Sailor" tells clearly what the U. S. government is prepared to do for a man injured in service. Panel number two shows wounded men occupying themselves with simple designing and block printing while they are in bed on the road to recovery. The next panel introduces a soldier-patient learning engraving. Succeeding posters illustrate men "learning to walk for the second time" on artificial legs, disabled men learning motion picture operating, oxy-acetylene welding, printing and mechanical drafting, at the Red Cross institute for crippled and disabled men in New York city. An interesting poster pictures India's war cripples learning automobile mechanics at Bombay. The use of prosthetic appliances to replace natural arms is demonstrated in several pictures showing French war cripples at work on the farm and in the shop.

BLIND TAUGHT TO WRITE.
Several panels are devoted to the work being done for blinded soldiers. These men who will never see the light of day are taught to write, to do useful work at which they can support themselves, and, most important, to play, dance, sing, row, bowl, etc. The final panel is a statement of the philosophy of rehabilitation by Douglas C. MacMurtrie, director of the Red Cross institute, which reads:

"The disabled man who is profitably employed is no longer handicapped."

"Training for self-support is not only humane, but economical. The advantages already extended to injured soldiers at home and abroad must be extended to every citizen disabled in industry or accident."

"Rehabilitation is the fundamental means of attack on the problem of disability."

"Let us help the cripple in the future not by handing out alms, but by giving him a fair chance to win his own way to self-respect and self-support."

WHAT DID SHE CALL HIM?

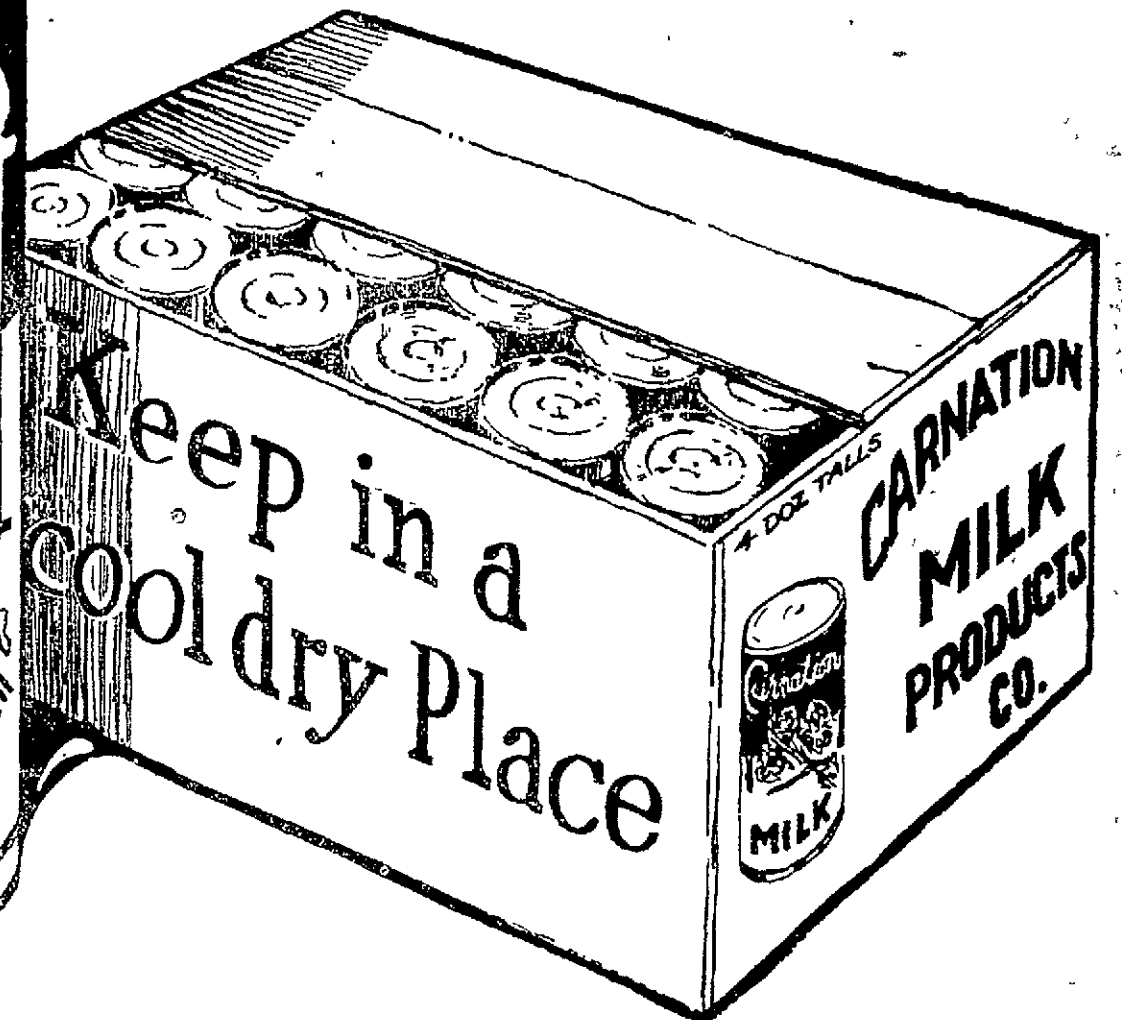

LOS ANGELES, July 15.—C. W. Austin, suing his wife, Maude, for divorce, insisted in Judge Crail's court that she called him names.

"Speak right out," ordered the court. "What names?" Modesty has no place here.

Austin "spoke right out" but the court soon interrupted, saying: "Sufficient, take your decree."

The Economy of

arnation

Buy it by the Case

CARNATION quality is so well known and appreciated that we now suggest the most convenient way of purchasing—by the case. Many users have for years bought Carnation by the case because it is economical and because they have confidence in Carnation quality—the standard for 20 years.

There are 48 tall size cans in a case. The contents of one tall can when diluted with an equal quantity of pure water is brought back to its original consistency of fluid milk—or about one quart as received from the cow. Thus a "case of Carnation talls" equals about 48 quarts.

Test the economy of buying Carnation by the case. Try it for a month for all uses. You will be surprised at the saving in time, in worry and in money. You will always be sure of pure, safe, wholesome milk. Remember—Carnation is cows' milk, with about half of the water removed by evaporation, then sterilized; nothing is added—contains all food values.

Economical For Every Milk Use

Still another appreciation of Carnation is its use for practically every milk or cream purpose in the home. As cream for coffee it was first introduced—now it is used for all cooking, especially in creamed dishes, gravies, creaming vegetables (canned or fresh), creaming meats, fish, etc.—and for baking. Carnation is also used with most satisfactory results in whipping, for ice cream, frozen desserts, for drinking, no-egg mayonnaise dressing, home-made candies, fruits and cereals, as infant food, etc.

Most Convenient

—always ready

Carnation Milk has won a place in the kitchen of the thrifty housewife because of its convenience. She always keeps a supply on hand the same as sugar, flour, salt, pepper, etc. She uses Carnation as she needs it—no daily waste if some members of the family are away—an additional supply if unexpected guests drop in.

Saves Milk Bills

—no waste

The economy of Carnation can best be appreciated by its keeping qualities—there is no waste. Open a can today and if it is not all used it will "keep sweet" for several days, when kept in a cool dry place—no standing order to be delivered daily whether or not it is needed. The safety of Carnation is assured because it is handled in a most sanitary way and is used to preserve its wholesomeness.

Were you ever disappointed with your Home-made Preserves?

Even the best recipe can't make allowances for the way sugar will harden into candy—or for the failure of a jelly to "jell".

Thousands of women are finding the ideal preserving syrup is a blend of $\frac{1}{2}$ Karo (Red Label) with $\frac{1}{2}$ sugar—instead of all sugar. Preserving done this way is always uniform—jelly that really "jells"—jam that is neither too syrupy nor too thick.

It gives you preserves with the natural fresh fruit flavor.

This fine, clear Karo Syrup has a natural affinity for the juices of the fruit. It blends the fruit with the sugar—makes your syrup rich and heavy, and holds jams and jellies firm and mellow, with not the slightest tendency to "candy" in the glass.

For Cooking, Baking and Candy Making Karo (Red Label) is used in millions of homes. In all cooking and baking recipes use Karo instead of sugar. It is sweet, of delicate flavor, and brings out the natural flavor of the food.

FREE A book of sixty-eight pages that gives you the best recipes for sure results in preserving. Easy to follow. The Corn Products Cook Book is handsomely illustrated—and it's free. Write us today for it.

Many Stake Claims in New Platinum Fields

VALDEZ, Alaska, July 15.—Reported discovery of platinum deposits about eight miles from Valdez, on the route of the Tanana river, has developed a small stampede on this city. It is the only stampede on record in Alaska history where many of the stampedeers have gone to the district of discovery in automobiles. Arthur Zimmerman, a prospector, is said to have made the discovery in May, and assays of ore found are said to show high values in platinum and gold. The ground may be easily worked by hydraulic methods. Nearly 100 persons have staked claims.

If you saw it in THE TRIBUNE, tell them so. Thank you.

Girl Quits Home to Get Good Disposition

DUNELLEN, N. J., July 15.—"You have an awful disposition; I don't know where you get it," said Mrs. John Kaschick to her daughter Mary, sixteen, in the course of a little filial spat here a few days ago. Next morning there was no Mary. She left this note:

"Dear Mother—I am going away until my awful disposition is improved. Mary."
Police have traced the girl to New York, where all trace of her was lost.

LICENSE CHIEF ASSUMES OFFICE

Herbert Elder, former manager of a local business house took office today as the new city license inspector. He was appointed to the office by Commissioner F. F. Morse. This removes from the police department the duty, imposed several years past, of collecting city licenses. The office was held by William Franke under the old Mott administration, and Franke was ousted by the office being discontinued, when the Civil Service Board, then headed by Harrison S. Robinson, held that it was unnecessary. The affair created a political sensation at the time, being the first occasion a position was abolished.

TERRIBLE SUFFERING CURED

Oakland, May 15, 1918. A terrible suffering from which no doctor was able to give me relief. I finally gave up hope and quit taking anything. I was suffering from a so-called incurable blood disease and rupa and my throat became so sore that I could not even swallow water without great pain. Not being able to either sleep or eat I was almost wild. In despair I went to the Feng Wan Herb Co. and drank their herb tea. I continued to drink it until my whole system was purified. When I began to recover my health four of my friends with similar troubles also took the tea and were entirely cured. I am now back at work and am strong enough to labor long hours in the Moore & Scott Shipyards.

NEW SLAYING CASE WILL BE PSYCHO FIGHT

LOS ANGELES, July 15.—A "psycho fight" for the life of Harry S. New Jr., confessed slayer of beautiful Freda Lesser, his sweetheart, in Topanga Canyon, will be staged at his trial on the murder charge, it developed today when District Attorney Thomas Lee Woolwine announced that the prosecution will employ alienists to prove that New is sane.

The "psycho fight" will take place when the prosecution and defense alienists after giving their scientific opinions on New's sanity will interpret his confession on a psychological basis.

By the use of psychological deduction the prosecution experts will attempt to prove that the confession was the act of a sane man while the defense experts will attempt to show that the slayer's alleged temporary insanity had not yet worn off when he brought the body of the girl to Central police station early on the morning of July 5.

That New called on Mrs. Alice Lesser, his sweetheart's mother, ten days before the slaying and told her of the circumstances of his birth, that he was born out of wedlock, but was the son of United States Senator Harry S. New of Indiana, was disclosed in the statement of a neighbor and friend of the slain girl.

At the same time New asked Mrs. Lesser if she had any objection to his marrying her daughter, under the circumstances, the neighbor said.

The girl told her of the occurrence, the neighbor said, and also asked this question: "Harry wants to marry me; do you think I am old enough?"

After being told by the girl that she was nearly 21 years old, the neighbor said she told Freda she was old enough to decide for herself.

"But I don't know whether I want to marry him or not," the girl is said to have replied.

RAIL REGULATION HEARINGS OPENED

WASHINGTON, July 15.—In view of the statement by President Wilson that the railroads would be returned to their owners at the end of this year, Chairman Esch told the House interstate commerce committee today that it would be useless to consider plans for a year extension of government control.

Chairman Esch explained the salient features of his regulation measures, including joint use of terminals, consolidation of lines, and the issue of stocks and bonds. One of the most important questions, the chairman said, was whether the railroads should be regulated by the regulatory body or the carriers.

Esch said hearings probably would continue for a month. Chairman Clark of the interstate commerce commission, the first witness, declared the purpose of the hearing covered the whole field of principle as well as detail of railroad legislation.

Admits Riffing P. O. Station of $386

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—Lawrence McLean, who claims to be the son of the sheriff of Norfolk county, North Carolina, pleaded guilty before Federal Judge William H. Sawtelle to robbing the postal station No. 42 at 5601 Geary street, carting away the strong box and rifling it of $386 in stamps and currency and postal money orders which could have been issued for a total of $21,200.

After McLean made what is apparently a clean breast of his crime Postoffice Inspector W. I. Madeira took the stand and by him McLean was revealed as having burglarized a number of homes in the Richmond district and is suspected of having robbed another postoffice in the Sunset district June 15. Also that McLean served time in Washington and had threatened to kill Thomas R. Cutler, 1215 Twenty-ninth avenue, when Cutler found him burglarizing his home. McLean then admitted these facts and sentence was delayed until next Monday. The maximum penalty is five years.

R-33 TUNES UP FOR LONG TRIP TO INDIA

LONDON, July 15.—The British dirigible R-33, sister ship of the R-34, which completed a round trip trans-Atlantic voyage Sunday, was to begin its final tuning up today for a flight to India. It was expected to leave some time this week.

The trip will be made by way of France, Switzerland, Italy and Egypt. A landing will be made in Rome and probably in Cairo. The flight is expected to occupy 15 or 20 days at three-quarters speed.

AUDITOR WANTS OWN LEGAL STAFF

Announcing that he plans to take the legal affairs of the city auditor's office out of the hands of the city attorney, City Auditor Harry G. Williams has filed with the city council budget committee a request for an appropriation for a special legal adviser for his office.

Inasmuch as in many cases holding up of claims and other matters involves the auditor's office in dispute with the city council, Williams says, he desires that his legal advice be received not from an appointee of the council but from an attorney independent of city politics. He says that in making the request he makes no reflection on any official but that in the interest of proper handling of the work of his office he believes a separate legal department should be installed.

A condition somewhat resembling an official feud arose between the auditor's office and the city attorney's office during the regime of former Auditor Fred Le Ballister, when City Attorney H. L. Hagan insisted that several claims which Le Ballister held up were legal, and when Le Ballister sought advice of his private attorneys, Williams felt he had a number of issues raised by Le Ballister.

Le Ballister halted payment of bills for firemen's uniforms, held up the expense bills of former Chief of Police J. H. Nedderman, and for a time held up the expense bills for city officials who went to the state legislature to lobby for the police and firemen's salary amendment. The last named bill was decided by Hagan to be a matter of the council's judiciary power to let whether it was city business or not, and was paid. Nedderman's bill was paid after a certain portion of the bill was needed out.

"I feel," said Williams, "that this office, being in effect a judiciary office passing on claims with no interests to consider save law and business efficiency, should have a legal adviser equally independent and impartial. It would be impossible for a city attorney, appointed by a council, to perform the business of a council, to maintain such an attitude in the case of an issue between this office and that council."

The budget committee will consider his request for legal advice this week.

Teachers' Campaign Is Freely Endorsed

Of the forty-four school districts in the county but eight have yet failed to endorse the campaign which the teachers are making for an increase in salary.

Thirty-six of the districts, through the board of school trustees, have already petitioned the supervisors for a salary increase. The districts outstanding are the Berkeley, Green, Livermore, May, Mission San Jose, Pleasanton, Redwood and Warm Springs districts.

Ah Sing Faces Six Lottery Charges

Ah Sing faced six different charges today in the police court of Judge George Samuels, separate charges of every possible form of Chinese lottery tickets being placed against the defendant. The cases will be tried jointly on August 25. Frank Carr, former state senator, appeared for the defense. Sing is alleged by the police to be the owner of a number of lottery houses.

SAILORS ARE IN SHARP DEMAND

Gone are the shivering timbered, maulin-spiked, rough and ready ways of the sea. Gone are the old days when sailor men were chattels to be boarded and wined—and carried aboard departing ships by crimps, who received a commission for their trouble. Gone are the troublous times when an ordinary sailor man knew was mere liquor, fight and continuous wrangle ashore.

Today it is all very different. Seamen are no longer the prey to boarding house keepers, saloon men and scheming ship masters, in need of hands. Sea captains are willing to pay $90 a month to men. They try every corner and rendezvous of the water front in their quest for highlanders, with doubtful success. Plentiful of sailor material in the past has changed to a decided scarcity in the present.

Ships, with full cargoes and completely fueled, lie idly at local wharves, awaiting crews. The American vessel, Dunsmuir, Captain Peters commanding, has been in this position for some time. The promise of high wages and excellent treatment does not accomplish its purpose, according to the sailing masters. It was only through a thorough combing of all Alameda county meeting places for sailors that Captain Peters of the schooner Tampa was able to sail this morning for Guam with his cargo.

Captain Peters is so hard put for men that he is using daily newspaper advertisements to secure them. As fast as men are signed for a cruise, according to the skippers, they are escorted to their lodging places where they pick up their belongings, step into a waiting vehicle and are whirled away to the docks.

The day of the boarding house mass is over, say the sailors, gleefully. He it was who bullied, caajoed and betrayed them into the hands of brutal sailing masters. Today skippers are not brutal—they pay big wages—take good care of their men at set and yet demand the fact that they are unable to clear at the custom house on schedule time.

Syndicalism Trial Set for September 3

The case of J. C. Taylor, arrested under the state anti-syndicalism law, was postponed today in the police court of Police Judge George Samuels to September third, on motion of the prosecution. Austin Lewis, former Socialist candidate for governor, was attorney for the defense. The postponement was in order to allow the syndicalism cases in San Francisco to be tried first, thus to set a precedent in other cases in the state. Taylor, a leader in the state Socialist party, was arrested in the recent "drive" of the police on alleged I. W. W. agitators.

EYESTRAIN CURE EFFECTIVE WHEN BATHERS CURBED

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 15.—Fearing an epidemic of eyestrain, Park Director Waite has decreed that bathing suits of the Mack Sennet girl type would not be "worn" on Cleveland beaches. Shoulders covered, and skirts not higher than four inches above the knee are the specifications for Cleveland misses.

Stockings may be dispensed with, Waite says, just to show what a liberal guy he is.

Stars Fire to Cover Burglary Evidence

That a burglar, hoping to cover up evidences of his crime, set fire to the store of Johnson Brothers & Company, Blossom street and Fruitvale avenue, after looting the place, is the conclusion today of Inspector William Kyle of the police department, after a probe of several days.

Evidences that stock had been removed before the incendiary blaze started, that locked doors had been unlocked, and that burglars had forced a window were found, Kyle said today.

WOMEN ROBBED BY SNEAK THIEVES

Thieves who prey upon women shoppers, stealing handbags and other valuables that are laid upon the counters, are unusually active in Oakland, according to police reports today.

Valuable trinkets and a small sum in currency was picked up in a large department store, according to the women's report to the police. Mrs. Grady turned for a moment to inspect an article on the counter. When she reached for her bag it was gone.

Another victim was Mrs. I. Hordsted, 767 Grand avenue, who lost a purse containing several dollars and jewelry.

Valuables and a small sum of money were in the purse stolen from Mrs. A. Hoff, 4124 Gilbert street, in a large department store.

In each case the victim of the clever shoplifters could give the police no clue. The shoplifter worked so quietly that he was gone before they could raise alarm.

Sneak thieves entered rooms in several Oakland places during the early morning. Ross Cameron, Martin hotel, Sixth avenue, reported the loss of a watch he had bought for his sweetheart. It is valued at $50. A valuable watch and chain were stolen from the locker of W. F. Hirsch, 674 Fairview street.

Food thieves raided the freight compartment on the Southern Pacific mole and got six cases of butter from a box car. Police inspectors McSorley and Rossick got the scent of the trail quickly and recovered one case.

Clothes and valuables were taken by a burglar, who pried open the window of the residence of Peter Massei, Lincoln avenue and Joaquin road.

Perry H. Ausson, 1447 Broadway, also reported the loss of jewelry and apparel. Inspectors Thomas and Keefe recovered some of the stuff.

Ad Club Is Host to Theater Favorites

The Oakland Ad club entertained Nana Bryant, Paul Harvey, Cliff Thompson and Manager George Eby of the Fulton theater at luncheon at the hotel Oakland today in honor of the fact that the Fulton is playing this week George M. Cohan's comedy, "It Pays to Advertise." All four of the guests from the theater made speeches, with responses from officers and members of the Ad club and musical selections, including the official song of the club, which has the same title as the play, sung by a male trio. Tonight is to be Ad club night at the Fulton, when the members of the club will attend the performance in a body.

Six Thrilling, Gripping, Detective Mystery Novels
By ACHMED ABDULLAH
(Author of "The Red Stain," "The Blue-Eyed Man," "Buckling the Tiger," Etc.)

To Appear Exclusively in the Oakland Tribune,
Beginning Sunday

A Page on Sunday—A Generous Installment Every Day

Stories of love and high adventure which carry us breathless from America to the mysterious, intriguing, silent East—to Morocco, Africa, Arabia and India, in a headlong flight of interest which makes the hands of the clock fly.

The author has come to the front rapidly in the literary world during the past few years because of the imagination and high quality of his work.

He is Captain Syed Shaykh Achmed Abdullah, Nadir Khan el-Iddrisieh el-Durani, a native-born Afghan and nephew of the Amir of Afghanistan, who died only a few weeks ago.

Born at Kabul, Afghanistan, on May 12, 1881, he was educated at Oxford University, England, received the degree of Bachelor of Laws at the University of Paris, and later the degree of Doctor of Islamic Law, al-Azhar, at Cairo, Egypt.

Achmed Abdullah served in the British-Indian army, retiring with the rank of captain. When the first Balkan war broke out he joined the Turkish army as Captain of the First Anatolian Cavalry and was later promoted to the rank of Major General on the Turkish General Staff and received the Medal of Valor for bravery in action.

At the end of the First Balkan War Captain Abdullah returned to England and later moved to New York, where he has since resided. For several years he has contributed regularly to many of the best-known magazines, including Harper's, Century, Collier's, Munsey's, Blackwood's, Figaro and others, and is the author of several widely-read novels.

One of Captain Abdullah's novels, "Buckling the Tiger," has been dramatized, and he is at present at work on a play for David Belasco in which David Warfield will star. He is an expert linguist and his work in translations from foreign tongues has attracted widespread attention both here and abroad.

Abdullah's Detective-Mystery stories are in a class by themselves. He is a master of plot and keeps the interest of the reader at fever heat as he carries his characters from the rush and bustle of America to the strange realms of the East, and back again in pursuing to its solution the gripping mystery he weaves.

INFIELDER AND PITCHER ARE SIGNED BY J. CAL EWING

FEATHERWEIGHTS TOP WEEKLY BOXING CARD TO BE STAGED TOMORROW NIGHT AT AUDITORIUM

OAKS STOP MR. RUMLER

Phil Koerner Is Improving COOPER IS BATting 300

By EDDIE MURPHY

Oakland pitchers might not have looked any too good to the local fans in the series against the Salt Lake Bees last week, but to squint over the batting averages one will find that the Oakland heavyweights did well against the Bees, and that the defeats were due to errors and failure of Oakland batters to hit at the right time. The pitching of the Oakland men last week was too much for the Bees. Bill Rumler, the tall hard-hitting Bee, who was leading the league last week, has stepped down into third place, giving way to Sam Crawford of the Angels, and "Hack" Miller of the Oaks.

Rumler lost twelve points against the Oaks pitchers, leaving Sam Crawford with a great time against the Seattle pitchers, adding eleven points to his average of .342. Sam Crawford, poor old Sam Crawford is all in, at least they think so back in Detroit. The wonder is that he would think he should keep his present average. Sam has batted out 128 hits, which is more than any other player has.

Again we can look down the old table and see where the pitchers are making it evident that mid-season is here. The old slide for the leading batters appears to be well started, but but two or three players of the Seals appears to be one that has his spikes sunk to keep from slipping. Phil is improving and last week saw him take one of his biggest jumps. He is hitting .332.

Johnson, Sheely, Melver and Smith are all Salt Lake batters besides Rumler, that suffered against the Oak pitchers.

For the first time since joining the Oaks Claude Cooper has slumped, but the slump was not enough to cause any worry, and he just does cling to the .300 class.

Rossy Middleton found the Vernon pitchers a little too wise for him and the Coyote outfielder fell from .300 to .287, he being the only regular to fall from the .300 class.

The big surprise of the last week was the hitting of Johnny Mitchell, the Vernon shortstop, and Mitchell jumped from .283 to .304, he getting

GERMANS SEEK
ITALIAN FAVOR,
PAGE WARNING

NEW YORK, July 15.—There is a certain amount of danger that the attitude of the allies will lead to such close relations between Germany and Italy that the latter country will come to look upon the Germans as their staunchest friends, in the opinion of Thomas Nelson Page, American ambassador to Italy, who has just returned from Rome.

Page had many complimentary things to say of the Italian part in the war, which, he declared, is not appreciated.

Page has returned to the United States to hand his resignation to the President.

9400-TON SHIP
IS DRAGGED UP ON LAND RAILS

When ship purchasers desire to inspect the wares they buy before actually accepting them, wrapped up and ready for delivery, they have the boat placed on specially-constructed railway vehicles and dragged up on dry land. After looking over the crafts, the buyers firmly accept the purchase. Then the saltwater railroad obligingly carries the ship back to its own element.

Not that it's really a railroad, according to officials of the Moore Shipbuilding company, it's more of a crane. Anyhow, the 9,400-ton steel steamship, Tuckanuck, fully equipped and engined, was hauled out from its berth in the yard waters and placed in full view of the buyers. This is a record. As the ways were built to haul out a weight of but 6,000 tons it was decided to await the return of George Ames, president and general manager, from Washington and New York before endeavoring to do the "impossible." The faith of Ames in the railroad was such that the inspection was made immediately upon his return from the east.

400 VESSELS
DETAINED IN
N.Y. BY STRIKE

NEW YORK, July 15.—Possibility of an embargo on railway freight from interior points because of the situation created by the seamen's strike, was foreseen in shipping circles here today.

Spread of the strike to the Great Lakes, as well as along the Atlantic coast, was also considered possible because of the refusal of the United States Shipping Board and private steamship owners to grant the demands of the firemen, water tenders and others.

A joint meeting of the American Steamship Association, members of the Shipping Board, the Masters' Mates' and Pilots' union, and the Marine Benefit Association was to be held today in an attempt to reach some agreement.

Unless a settlement is reached at this meeting, it is believed a general strike may be called, increasing the number of ships now tied up by the strike of marine firemen, water tenders and others' union.

Following the refusal of the Shipping Board to grant in full the demands of the strikers, a number of vessels operated by the United States Shipping Board were tied up.

Officials of the seamen's union refused to estimate the number of men out, but Oscar Carlson, secretary of the firemen's union, said more than 15,000 were on strike, and more were quitting as ships arrived.

Pickets were patrolling the waterfront and a number of coastwise vessels scheduled to sail Saturday and yesterday were still at their docks. It was said by union officials that more than 400 vessels are now held in port.

ONE SCHOOL BOARD FIGHT ENDS;
ANOTHER DUE AT NEXT MEETING

'Abolish Advisory Committee' Says Campbell

Attempt to 'Oust' McClymonds Again Fails

That a fight will be waged at the next meeting of the Board of Education to abolish the "school advisory committee," appointed some years ago by the Civic Association to advise with the Board of Education on school plans and the work of which he says has been completed, is the statement today by Fred Campbell of the Board of Education.

Campbell has informed other members of the Board of Education that he sees no reason for continuing a committee, the work of which is done, and he says that he will demand that the body be thanked for its services and relieved from further duty.

"I don't know how the organization was appointed in the first place, as I was not on the board," said Campbell. "But it is certain, in my way of thinking, that the responsibility of the Board of Education has been transferred over to this organization. I am not in favor of self-constituted advisers to public officials being in semi-official positions indefinitely."

A second unsuccessful attempt by Dr. J. Loran Pease, member of the Board of Education, to oust former Superintendent of Schools J. W. McClymonds from the position of "superintendent emeritus," an honorary place with no pay, has precipitated a lively dispute in the board. After a lively argument at the meeting of the board in committee last night Pease demanded before the official session that his move to abolish McClymonds' position be placed on the official minutes. It was agreed to hold over the McClymonds matter until Superintendent Fred M. Hunter returns from the east.

According to other members of the board Dr. Pease started his fight to abolish the McClymonds office several weeks ago following a statement by the former superintendent that the Stonehurst school site "was not bought by but sold to the board."

RESOLUTIONS FAIL.

This statement was made in connection with an argument in the school advisory committee over purchase of sites for schools in the new building program. Some members of the board insisted that this was an overt criticism of the Board of Education.

Others said that the board bought the site, years ago, when McClymonds himself was superintendent, and that McClymonds was only criticizing his own administration.

Dr. Pease offered a resolution to abolish McClymonds' office, and it failed. Last night he offered another one, which was also turned down, suggesting that the good of the service that the position has abolished, "said Pease. "That is all the explanation I need make."

Director Fred Campbell declared that Dr. Pease mistook McClymonds' son, Vance McClymonds, for the ex-superintendent, and that Vance McClymonds, and not the superintendent emeritus, was the man who had written letters to voters opposing the candidacy of Pease for the Board of Education at the last campaign. Pease said that the incident had nothing to do with his desire to oust McClymonds.

POLITICAL FIGHT.

McClymonds was for twenty-five years superintendent of the Oakland schools. A. C. Barker was appointed in his place, and Barker later was succeeded by Fred M. Hunter. McClymonds, as a mark of esteem, was named "superintendent emeritus," and given a seat on the school advisory committee. He has taken an active part in the work of this body, and has participated in several debates over school sites and building plans.

The Board of Education last night ratified contracts for thirty portable schools, and passed on routine teachers' appointments and details of school management.

"Quinine" Illness
Afflicts Alamedan

A mysterious illness has rendered Mike Kalls, 5512 Fremont street, in critical condition and Kalls today is being diagnosed by physicians at the emergency hospital.

He was taken to the hospital this morning on orders of Dr. J. A. Wood, 6002 San Pablo avenue. Kalls took a dose of quinine and suddenly fell ill. Dr. Wood was called by neighbors and the case puzzled him. Kalls' condition was so serious that he ordered his immediate removal to the emergency hospital.

The "quinine" illness is the second to come to the attention of Oakland police in two days.

Woman Drops Charge
Against Rev. Kramer

SAN JOSE, July 15.—Miss Alberta Hall, former choir singer of the First Baptist Church of this city, who announced last week that she would demand a rehearing of charges brought by her against the Rev. James W. Kramer, pastor of the church, said today that she would take no further action in the matter. The church deacons recently exonerated the pastor of the slander charges brought by Miss Hall.

Following this action, Miss Hall declared that she would appear before the board with additional charges. She said today that although the deacons had "white-washed" the matter, she had decided not to bring it into court, as she at first threatened.

Columbus Knights
to Dance Saturdays

On next Saturday evening, at their hall at 660 Thirteenth street, Oakland Council, Knights of Columbus, will give a dance, the first of a series of monthly dances which the local council has inaugurated.

Now that most of the members who were in the service of the country have returned, the dance will be in the nature of a welcome and a social get-together for the knights and ladies.

At its last meeting Oakland Council was honored by the first official visit of its newly elected state deputy, Dave F. Supple of San Francisco.
